Speech o President Jounson, at the Celebration in Washington yesterday, of the Emancipation, by the colored people, in that city.

I nate nothing more to say to you on this oc asi n than to thank you for this complement befreme on this your day of celebration. I come forw id for the purpose of ind cating my ap, rotation, and mainfesting the appreciation of the respect thus offered or conferred. I thank you for the compliment, and I mean what I say. And I will remark in this connection to tal. vast concourse that the time will come, and that, too, before a great while, when the co'o ed population of the United States was find out who have selected them as a hob y and a pretence by which they can be su cessiul in obtaining and maintaining power, and wio have been their true friends, and wan ed the n to par icipate in and enjoy the Hessings of freed an.

The ime will come when it will be made known who contributed as much as any other man, and who, without being considerd ego tistic, I may say contributed more, in procuri.g the great national guarantee of the abolition of slave y in all the States, by the ratification of he amendment to the Constitution of the U ired St tes-giving a national guarantee that slavery shall no longer be permitted to exist or be re-e tablished to any State or jurisdiction of the Unite | States.

I know how easy it is to eater to prejudice, and now easy it is to excite feelings of prejunice and unkindness. I care not for hat. I have ben engaged in this work in which my all naheen period. I was not engaged in it as a hoby, nor did I rue the colored man for the sake of gaining power. What I did was for the pu p so of e-tablishing the great principles of freedom. And, thank God, I feel and know it to be so, that my efforts tave contilbund as much, if not more, in accomplishing tais great national gueran ee, hen those of any other living man in the United States.

[Applau +] It is very a y for colored men to have pret-ude friends, en coast d in high places, and far removed from danger-whose eyes have only abstractly gazed on freedom; who have nver exposed meir limbs or property, and who never contribued a sixpence in furtherance of the great cause; while another periled his ail, and put up everything sacred and dear toman, and those whom he raised and who lived with him now enjoy his property with his consent, and receive his ail and assitance; vet some wine as ume, and others who have done nothing are considered, the great defenders and protectors of the colored man. Liepeni my colored friends, here to-day, the time will come, and that not far distant, when it will be proved who is practically your best been for place or power, for I had these already. It has been a principle with me, and I thank God the great principle has been estabushed that where ever any individual, in the language of a distinguished orator and statesman, treads American soil, his soul swells within him beyond the power of chains to bind him in appreciation of the great truth that he stands forth redeemed, regenerated

Then let me mingle wi h you in celebration of the day which comm need your free tom. I do it in since ity and tru h, and trust in God the blessing, which have been conterred may be enjoye isn tap, resisted by you, and that you may give ham a proper direction.

Tuere is something for all to do. You have high and solemn duties to perform, and you tucht to remember that freedom is not a mere idea. It must be reduced to practical reality. Men in being free have to deny themselves hany thi g. which seem to be embraced in the ide of universal freed in.

It is with you to give evidence to the world, THE CELEBRATED SMITH'S PATENT and the people of the United States whether STEEL PLOWS. you are going to appreciate this great boon as it should te, and that you are worthy of being freemen. Then let me thank you with sin erly for the compliment y u have paid me by pa-sing through here to-day and paying your respects to me. I repeat a ain, the time will tone when you will know woo has been your best friend and who has not been your friend

The President, after concluding his remarks wated so on time outside while the procession presed, and ou ing this time large numbers of the colored pro, le advanced to pay their respecis rehim and take him by the hand.

The Presid no was repeatedly and enthusias ically on ered during the delivery of the
